

PUBLISHING WEB PAGES

Lesson 6

Creating Web pages and making them available on the World Wide Web is known as publishing. You must publish your pages before anyone can view them on the Web.

Below are the summary of steps for publishing web pages.

Step 1 Plan Your Web Pages

Decide on a theme for your Web pages. If possible, try to make your theme unique. When planning your Web pages, determine first the goals that you want your pages to accomplish, and then plan the design of the pages.

Step 2 Create the Content

Decide what information that you want to present in your Web pages, and then create the content. After you create the text, you can convert the text to HyperText Markup Language (HTML). HTML is the language used to display information on the Web.

Step 3 Insert Images

You can use images, such as pictures, logos or icons, to enhance the appearance of your Web pages. You can create these images on your computer, copy them from the Web or use a scanner to copy them from a printed material.

Step 4 Insert Links

Links allows readers to select an image or highlighted text to display another page on the Web. It is one of the most important features of your Web pages since they let readers easily move through information of interest.

Step 5 Place Pages on the Web

When you finish creating your Web pages, you can transfer the pages to a service that makes pages available on the Web. Test your pages to ensure the information appears properly and all the links work. Then, announce your Web pages to the world.
